

A Vote for Matt

Is a Vote for Me

"As a transgender young person, it can feel really helpless knowing that this election will have a big impact on my future, on my rights, and yet I can't even vote. LGBTQ+ youth like me need you to get out and vote as if our lives depend on it, because they do. Over the past few years we've watched the most vulnerable in our country face increasing rates of violence and discrimination. When you cast your vote, it goes way beyond just you. "A Vote for Matt is a Vote for me" is a reminder of that, a reminder that youth voices and youth lives matter. We need you to show up for Matt, for kids like us."

-- Rebekah Bruesehoff

At only 12-years-old, Rebekah Bruesehoff, a transgender youth advocate, public speaker and field hockey player has testified before the New Jersey state legislature, published an op-ed in the Philadelphia Inquirer, spoken to crowds as large as 31,000, and most recently became a real-life Marvel Universe super hero. Best known for her sign in 2017 that read, "I'm the scary transgender person the media warned you about," this viral sensation is just beginning to change the world. Learn more about her journey at rebekahbruesehoff.com